"LEGITIMATE COMPLAINT."

Mr. Cosgrave had given a most attentive hearing to the case which had been presented to him, and gave a very definite assurance that he would arrange for the Electricity Supply Board to give the earliest possible attention to the legitimate complaint which had been made on behalf of Limerick electricity consumers.

(A full report of other matters dealt with at the meeting of the Chamber will appear in Monday issue).

"SMALL" PROBLEM FOR SHANNON AIRPORT PERSONNEL

A small problem existed at Shannon Airport for the greater part of yesterday for airline personnel (writes our special Airport correspondent). The small problem was a four-year-old William Murphy dressed in blue jeans and a striped T-shirt with a St. Christopher medal hanging around his neck on a chain. He had arrived yesterday morning from New York in charge of a passenger and was to have been met by Irish relatives at Shannon. But when the plane touched down nobody met William. The passenger, Mrs. Sadie Keane, on her way to visit her mother, Mrs. Kavanaugh, 7 Dalymount, Dublin, said three ladies asked her at La Guardia to look after the little boy on the trip. "At first he thought he was in the New York subway and kept insisting on getting out of the 'plane," she said, "but later he became the perfect little air-traveller and slept most of the way across." Continuous public address appeals for persons to meet the boy all through yesterday met with no response, and Michael just sat around on a trunk, almost as large as himself, philosophically chewing gum. He formed a liking for an Aer Lingus ground hostess, Joan Neville, of Limerick, and cried when she went off duty. Last night, when airline officials were beginning to worry about the boy's uncle, of Ballyhahill, Foynes, Co. Limerick, arrived to meet him. By that time, however, Michael had made so many friends and had collected so many toys and sweets that he was almost reluctant to leave Ireland's international
