LIVED TOGETHER AND DIED WITHIN FEW DAYS

Two County Limerick men who resided in the same house died within a few days of one another (writes our Croom correspondent).

Stephen Moloney (58), of Ballymartin, Croom, died suddenly at his residence on Saturday morning. He was examined by Dr. Bourke, Croom, and an inquest was not deemed necessary, as death was from natural causes. On Saturday evening, Patrick Bray (76), who resided with Stephen Moloney, took suddenly ill and was removed to Croom Hospital, where he died on Monday morning. Both men had resided together at Ballymartin, Croom, for a number of years.
