the scene and locating where the man had gone under the water. Meanwhile a crowd gathered on the bridge-and it was seen that the swimmer was in very grave danger of losing his life. However, Mr. Hanly succeeded in obtaining a firm grip of the drowning man and brought him to the surface. People who had by then gathered on the bank gave assistance as Mr. Hanly brought the man ashore. Artificial respiration was applied to the man and proved successful, and it was not necessary to remove him to hospital.

Mr. Hanly, who is a popular employee of the British Overseas Corporation, Shannon Airport, and is a well-known figure in local sport, deserves the highest praise for his plucky action.

The man whom he saved was Mr. Thomas Ryan, a member of the E.S.B. staff.

THREE ABREAST

DANGEROUS CYCLING PRACTICE

For cycling three abreast, John Neylon, Cragleigh; Chris Neylon, do., and James Barry, Magowna. were fined 7/6 each at Ennis Dis trict Court on Friday.

Neylon said they did not think it any harm to cycle in such a manner.

Justice Gordon Hurley said that was no excuse. Time and again people had been warned of the danger of this practice in the newspapers, which reported the penalties applied by the Courts, Cyclists guilty of such an offence were a danger to themselves and other users of the road.
