USEFUL WORK

The clearing and cleaning of the early Maigue and its tributary the Ahalow is now in progress (writes our Ballyagran correspondent). The farmers of this district have suffered much in time of floods and have long been asking for relief.

The Muintir na Tire Cumann at Ballyagran has since its inception been impressing on the authorities the necessity of this work and we are glad to see that the efforts of the Cumann have been successful.

The idea of the Cumann was that the work should start at Drewscourt Bridge. The work actually began at Connell's Bridge, leaving a portion from there to Drewscourt Bridge, which urgently needs clearing. However, it is good to see a beginning and we may hope to see a continuance of this very useful work.

THEY ARE STILL MISSING

The body seen in the Abbey River on Wednesday morning last week has not yet been located. Still missing is Mr. Patrick O'Donoghue, who resided at 15 Lower Gerald Griffin Street. A search is still continuing for the body.

famous relic of the past.

CEREMONIAL PROCEDURE.

Ceremonial procedure for the reception of the Chalice, as well as the inauguration ceremony of the Exhibition, Sunday, November 26th, were also discussed.

The outcome of these discussions will be communicated to the Press as soon as arrangements are completed.

Very Rev. Canon Moloney was welcomed on his return from Rome. He expressed satisfaction with the progress made by the General Committee of the Exhibition and by the Sub-Committees in his absence.

concluded as soon as possible.

"A WASTE OF TIME."

Mr. D. P. Quish said the Manager's report was but another illustration of the lack of powers the Council had in matters of this kind; it also showed the uselessness and the waste of time of the Council in opening and examining tenders.

The Chairman (Mr. J. J. Collins, T.D.) said that apart entirely from his private opinion that the Council was doing some good work in retaining all its powers of recommendation, he had to point out that the Manager was obliged in law to take the action indicated in his report.

There was no further discussion on the report.

MALAYAN TERRORISTS IN ACTION

Terrorist gangs in Malay attacked the U.S. Consulate, which is three miles from Kuala Lumpur, last night.

The attack was successfully repelled by British forces.
