For some weeks past the late Mr. Clifford had been in failing health.

to the partial to anothering.

He was a prominent figure' in the social life of Limerick. The possessor of a fine and entertaining baritone voice, he was a distinguished member of the old Limerick Operatic Society, with which he scored many successes.

He was held in the highest regard by the members of the Shannon Rowing Club, who bestowed an honour on him in past years by electing him to the Club's presidential chair, interest in Shannon's crews was always to the forefront, while his desire to promote the Limerick Citizens' Annual Regatta illustrated by his work on the Regatta Committee.

Deep sympathy will be extended to his relatives.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN

The death of Mr. John Fitzgerald, which took place on St. Stephen's Day at his residence, Worrall's Inn, Castleconnell, has occasioned widespread regret and sorrow.

FITZGERALD

The late Mr. Fitzgerald was a member of the staff of Messrs. Cannock and Co. for many years, and in his business dealings with the public he gained the esteem and regard of all for his probity of character, integrity and unfailing affability. Failing health compelled him to sever his official connection with the firm he had served so welland his premature demise has evoked the deepest feelings of regret amongst his late colleagues.

To his widow, daughter and relatives, heartfelt sympathy is extended in their bereavement.
