DECONTROL OF COAL.

An announcement of much interest to the general public, the industrialist as well as the householder, appears in yesterday's papers: It is to the effect that inland coal will be decontrolled as from March 1st, the export price having now come to the home figure, and in some cases even below it. There is, therefore, now no longer any ground for restricting the price. But what the public are concerned with, or desirous of knowing, is what effect decontrol will have on existing rates, high as they are, and whether there is to be a reduction or an increase. Seeing that the prices of other essential commodities of life are falling, and are likely to still further decline in the future, the hope of the "man in the street" is that he will have a similar experience with regard to coal. And he is encouraged in that view by the opinion of experts that the effect of decontrol will mean a fall in the poorer varieties of coal, of which there are large quantities available. Opinion respecting the higher grades is not at the moment so rosy. There may be, we are told, a small increase, but it is not anticipated that there will be any increase in the general average. We must wait and see, but meantime decontrol will rather be welcomed than otherwise. A month is afforded in which buyers and sellers may re-adjust their arrangements. Inland consumers will then be free to purchase supplies from any available source and through any channel and with competition re-established in the trade, the coal-owner will be free to sell his supplies to the highest bidder, and the purchaser to buy to the best advantage. It is to be hoped, thus, that the consumer will benefit, though, as said, that remains to be seen. The situation with regard to the coal trade has undergone a marked change compared with six or seven months ago and not for the better from an export point of view. At that time industries in these islands were handicapped by shortage of coal owing to the demands on this country for supplies from France, Italy, and large areas in Central Europe. Now the position is reversed through various causes, amongst them depression of trade in Europe; the fact that France's demand for coal from overseas has been greatly reduced by the regular instalments that come to her from Germany, and thirdly to American competition with Britain in European markets. The consequence is that the demand for British coal abroad has diminished with the result that the industry is being conducted at a considerable loss, and the "pool" from which the Government is meeting the deficit is shrinking. These and other circumstances apparently have led up to decontrol, coupled with the increased output from the home mines that has taken place during the past few months. The bases of the new wages of the miners have yet to be settled, and, naturally, this is a factor which will have its effect more or less in the price of coal in the future, but with, as stated, increased output from the mines one may hope that relief for the consumer will come sooner or later, if to some extent at least it has not come already.

COUNTY WICKLOW J.P. SHOT DEAD.

Son Seriously Wounded.

A Press Association message says:—An encounter with armed and masked men in County Wicklow in the early hours of yesterday morning resulted in the death of a Justice of the Peace. An official message states that two armed and masked men entered the house of Mr Robert Dixon, J.P., at Milltown and demanded money. Some resistance was offered, and Mr Dixon was shot dead, and his son James seriously wounded.

SHOT FIRED INTO CITY LICENSED PREMISES.

Shortly before 10 o'clock on Tuesday night a shot was fired into a licensed shop in one of the principal streets in the city. The shot was fired apparently from the door, and at the time there were some people in the premises, one of whom received a flesh wound to the left arm. It was not, however, of a serious character and was surgically attended to.

LIMERICK FISHERY BOARD.

Mr A. Blood-Smyth, Solicitor, presided at the meeting of the Limerick Fishery Conservators yesterday. There were also present: Messrs R.R. Ballygall, J.E., and J.J. Adams, with Mr H.B. Alton, Secretary.

THE LATE COMMISSIONER HOLMES

The funeral of the late Divisional Commissioner Helms, killed in the Dublin shooting, took place last week, took place on Tuesday at Mount Jerome Cemetery, Dublin. A large contingent of military and other Crown forces was present.

THE FOOD SUPPLY.

The recent fall in food prices has not been maintained, in some instances, at least. On the 25th day eggs were 2s. 6d. per dozen higher than on the previous Saturday, and the day after an advance of five shillings per cwt. on potatoes was reported.

THE SHOOTING OF MRS KING AT MALLOW.

Two Railwaymen Killed.

Following the tragic death of Mrs King and the wounding of County Inspector King, further tragedies took place in Mallow. Two railwaymen were killed and several others were wounded. Mrs King was shot dead by a bullet from a house in Mallow, while several others were wounded and are in hospital in Cork and Mallow. Mr King is making good progress. Universal sympathy has been extended to him from all creeds and classes in Mallow on his terrible bereavement. Mrs King was daughter of the Rev Canon King, Rector of parish near Killglinn. Mr King succeeded to the County Inspectorship of Cork County about three months ago. He had seen service in the war, and had served previously as a District Inspector. He and his wife lived in Mallow, and were extremely popular with the townspeople of all classes and creeds. Mrs King was aged about 35 years, and took an active part in Church work in Mallow. Captain King's father is also a clergyman of the Church of Ireland. He is about 40 years of age.

Describing the scene of the attack, a correspondent says:—County Inspector King was on the inside of the footpath, and his wife on the outside. At one side there was a vegetable garden, and on the other the railway way. Twenty feet above the road, with the rolling stock giving ample cover, half a dozen shots rang out, and Mrs King fell to the ground with a cry, and her husband was shot in the leg. He bent over the prostrate body of his wife, regardless of his wound, and it is surprising that the assassin did not fire on him again. To the scene, to find the officer holding his dying wife in his arms. An Auxiliary policeman lifted the lady and asked how it happened that Mrs King had been shot, and her husband replied that he believed she was shot deliberately. The lady had received two bullets in the left side of her body, and at once collapsed from shock and hemorrhage. Her husband returned the fire of his assailants, discharging all chambers of his revolver, with what result is not known.

The police force, on hearing of the shooting, rushed to the railway station, and there was a scene of turmoil while they "rounded up" the entire staff and made minute inquiries. King was again heard, and it was reported afterwards that twelve of the railwaymen were shot, two of them mortally—viz., William Bennett and Patrick Deane, while the other more or less seriously injured were removed to the Mallow Nursing Home and other places. The wounded include railwaymen Morrissey, Maher, Mahony, Howa, Martin, and Cronin.

A number of railwaymen, on the approach of the forces of the Crown, mounted an engine lying at the station and got away to the next station, at Buttevant, and escaped the "hold up." About the same time the refreshment rooms at the Mallow Station were wrecked.

The Curfew period in Mallow begins at 9 p.m. There are no more deaths reported, those wounded at Mallow. The body of Mrs King was removed from the Nursing Home to the Protestant Church amidst every sign of popular sorrow.

LIMERICK GIFT SALE

For Milk Fund.

There was a big and varied display of goods at the Gift Sale held to-day in the Agricultural Hall, O'Connell Avenue, in connection with the City Milk Fund, of which Mrs O'Brien, South Hill, is President. For a great number of years the deserving poor of the city have been supplied, through the instrumentality of the Fund, with a supply of pure milk at cost price, and in these times, when the price is abnormal, and practically beyond the reach of the poorer classes, the benefits conferred by this agency cannot be over stated. The practical side of the work has had at all times a keen exponent in Mrs O'Brien, and those associated with her in the work, and the donors of to-day's sale clearly exemplified the appreciation shown towards the undertaking. When it was suggested that a sale of this character should be held in aid of the growing needs of the fund, many offered their services, and the result was seen at the Agricultural Hall, which was kindly lent for the occasion by Messrs Ebbill Brothers. The sale opened at eleven o'clock, and during the day was visited by a large number of citizens, who were profuse in their expressions of sympathy in which it was organized and furthered. At the various stalls purchases were freely made. Mrs P.E. O'Donnell and Mrs W.J. O'Sullivan presided at the Brio-Banquet, which came in for liberal support. The Misses Doyle had charge of the Books, and had no difficulty in disposing of them. A collection of Country Produce was quickly cleared under Mrs J.P. Goodbody's and Mrs Farmer's engaging business methods. Mrs A.M. Mara was in charge of the linen stall, and here the public appreciation resulted in an early clearance. Some very choice selections were offered at the stall presided over by Mrs W. Ebbill and Mrs K. Stokes, and the taste of connoisseurs was readily satisfied by the effected clearance. Mrs J. Quinn was President of the tea stall, a necessary adjunct to such a sale, and a brisk trade was the result of her labours.

IRISH WHITE CROSS.

The Irish White Cross movement was inaugurated on Tuesday at a meeting in the Dublin Mansion House, the Lord Mayor presiding.

DEATH SENTENCE.

Kerry Civilian Shot.

The following was published yesterday:—Cornelius Murphy, of Ballydaly, Rathmore, Co Kerry, farmer, was tried at Cork on 17th January, 1921, by a military court for offences against martial law.

DEATH OF MISS ESSIE VOKES.

Very many friends in the city have heard with deep sorrow of the unexpected death of Miss Essie Vokes, which occurred yesterday morning at her residence, 18, Alphonso Place, Henry-street, after a couple of weeks' illness. For several years past Miss Vokes, who belonged to an old Limerick family, was a member of the clerical staff of Messrs Christie, coach-builders and motor establishment, O'Connell-street, and her very bright and capable manner made her most popular in business and social life. Sisters sympathy is expressed with her relatives in their bereavement. The funeral is announced to leave for the family burial place at Mungret to-morrow at eleven o'clock.

SEARCHES IN CLARE.

Police and military made searches yesterday in the Glenwood district, the scene of the recent ambush and shooting of District Inspector Clarke and others of a police party. Many houses, it is stated, were entered, and inmates interrogated.

DUBLIN COURT MARTIAL.

Four men were charged before a general court-martial in Dublin on Tuesday with the murder of Captain Raggally in a house in Baggot-street on November 21st. One of the prisoners named Tobin was discharged.

SUCCESSFUL SALE.

Harmony House, Harmony Row, Kenna, the property of Mrs C. O'Kenna, has been sold by Mr McManis, Auctioneer, Ennis, for 2975 and fees.

The leading car, which contained a District Inspector, got through unscathed, but nothing is known as to the fate of those in the other car. Chairman—Read.

The following letter was read:—"Dear Sir, County Council, Court House, Kenna, 26th Jan, 1921.

"DEAR MR KELLY,—Please convey on behalf of my family and myself, our most sincere gratitude to the members of the Kilrush Board for their kind resolution of sympathy on the tragic death of our dear boy. Alip accept same for your very kind expressions, and oblige yours sincerely, P. J. FRANKLIN."

The Chairman—The letter will be inserted in our minutes.

THE OUTDOOR RELIEF.

Mr Roughtan, Relieving Officer for Kilrush, said this was the third week they had not money for the poor receiving outdoor relief, and that the Guardians should in the circumstances remove the names of those receiving outdoor relief off the books, and for relief to offer them the house.

Mr Madigan enquired how much the outdoor relief came to?

The Assistant Clerk—From £25 to £27 a week.

The Chairman—It is unfortunate, but we may have money next week.

The Assistant Clerk—If the Bank was approached.

Chairman—Yes, on personal security.

The Assistant Clerk suggested to approach the Manager of the National Bank before the resolution was adopted to take the names off the relief books.

A deputation of the Board then went and interviewed the Bank Manager, and on returning, Mr Kelly said the Manager was sympathetic and would communicate with the directors, and would tell them at their next meeting as to whether he would be able to give them the money.

Mr Roughtan—But for the Society of St Vincent de Paul there might have been an end result in Kilrush. They did a good deal according to the funds at their disposal.

Mr Connolly, R.O., said in the country the poor people get a good deal of help, but on the seashore places the poor were badly off.

Mr Moloney said the responsibility did not lie with the Guardians. It was from the County Council, who collected the rates, that they ought to help to keep the poor going. We can't help now that we are stranded.

The subject dropped.

A Memorable Sale.

It is many years since a business event has created such interest as our

HUGE CLEARANCE SALE

Certainly never before have so many people attended a Furniture Sale in Limerick. It is not in tens or hundreds but in their thousands they have come, and we must candidly admit that so far we have only dealt with a fraction of those who wanted to buy. We apologize to those who have been disappointed, and ask them to be good enough to come and see us again. The opportunity is unique and everyone wanting anything we sell is taking advantage of it.

They are wise in doing so, as such quality goods are not going to be bought again at the prices we are now offering them.

Our premises will be taken over this month by Messrs F W WOOLWORTH & CO., LTD.—The world-famous traders. Our stock diminishes daily, but there is still time for you to secure your wants.

NOTICE—To facilitate those who are unable to attend the Sale during our ordinary business hours, we shall remain open on Saturday evening next until 8 p.m.,

A FAMOUS FIRESHIP EXPLOIT.

One of the most interesting fire-ship exploits which ever took place was that carried out against the French fleet in Biscay Roads in 1859 by that remarkable man, Lord Cochrane. His explosion vessel, designed by himself, and intended to destroy the boats of the French fleet, was a truly awful contrivance. The floor of the ship was made firm by firmly wedged logs, and on this foundation was placed 100 barrels of powder, set up on end and packed. On the top of these were several hundred shells and 3,000 hand-grenades, the whole mass being pressed home with wedges and damp sand. Cochrane himself piloted the vessel and it was close by the French fleet when the explosion occurred. The vessel was filled with shells, grenades, and blazing debris, while the explosion blew a huge rent in the boom.

WHERE DANIEL WAS BURNED.

At Luristan, a province in the South of Persia, there is a beautiful spot surrounded by trees, with a background of mountains. It is known as the grave of Daniel. Daniel was here, according to tradition, when he was hurled into the den. The story is told that the inhabitants, the Burs, as they are called, belong to a nomadic peasant tribe, who live in the plains during the summer months and wander about in the mountains and high up a rich harvest, and return to their mountain huts during the winter. Like the other mountaineers in Persia, the Burs have a habit of killing their captives. They believe most probably that towards strangers, but are not above troubling caravans should they require fresh goods to replenish their stores.
