TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

IRISH PEACE. SINN FEIN ENVOYS Arrive in Scotland. A Press Association telegram says:—The two Sinn Fein envoys to Mr. Lloyd George arrived at Inverness to-day, and later set off for Glasgow. They will reach there at five o'clock this evening. Mr. De Valera's letter intimating the acceptance of the invitation to a Conference at Inverness on the 20th last is expected to be placed in Mr. Lloyd George's hands this afternoon. The Premier and Mr. Joseph McGrath, the Sinn Fein courier, may agree to issue the text of the reply to-night for publication to-morrow, but it seems more likely it will be issued to-morrow.

PRIVATE SESSION OF DAIL EIREANN TO-MORROW.

Our Dublin correspondent wires:—The Sinn Fein reply to the Premier's invitation to a Conference at Inverness has now been delivered. The text of the reply will be made public simultaneously in London and Dublin possibly to-night. In the meantime preparations are being made for a meeting of Dail Eireann to-morrow. The session will be private. Its purpose is believed to be the ratification of the reply, and the appointment of plenipotentiaries to Inverness.

MOROCCAN CAMPAIGN.

Paris, Monday. A Madrid telegram announces the occupation of Sankelaha, in Morocco, without losses on the Spanish side. The enemy's camp, with much material, was abandoned intact. The Moors fled leaving a number of killed and wounded.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

At the Psychological section of the British Association at Edinburgh to-day, Dr. Kimmins, London, said Charlie Chaplin made children laugh because he was breaking all social conventions, and doing the very things they were forbidden to do. Doctor Owens, Westminster, said during a London particular fog there were probably two hundred tons of soot suspended above the metropolis.

CABINET AND UNEMPLOYMENT.

The Cabinet Council on unemployment met formally for the first time in London to-day. The Admiralty have issued an order directing full-time working to be resumed in the Royal Dockyards from September 25th. This has been done, says a Portsmouth correspondent, without consulting the men, the majority of whom are understood to be opposed to returning to Saturday working, which the new order involves.

WORK IN DOCKYARDS.

ARRIVAL OF CHARLIE CHAPLIN. Charlie Chaplin landed from the White Star liner Olympic at Fontham, on Saturday. A drizzling rain was falling. The film comedian was received by the Mayor, who hailed him as the "King of Mirth," and trusted that he would long be spared to afford his people pleasure by his genial and witty world-over-coming expression of emotion at the kind greeting, afterwards leaving for London. Regarding his nationality, Charlie Chaplin said he was "all English." On reaching London he had a tremendous reception.

THE ROADS IN GLIN DISTRICT.

County Surveyor's Report.

At the meeting of the Glin District Council, Mr. J. Cronin, presiding, the Clerk read the County Surveyor's report, which was as follows:—"County Surveyor's Report. 82 O'Connell-street, Limerick. Gentlemen—It is hardly necessary for me to state that work in connection with the maintenance of roads has been rendered very difficult during the past six months. Fortunately, the weather has been very favourable, and the actual repair work necessary, and your district did not suffer as much as others in the matter of preparation of materials, as practically all the work is done by hand in the Glin rural district. With reference to the preparation of materials, I should like to point out that although the most satisfactory road maintenance in your district is the lowest of any in the western district, the cost of quarrying and breaking stones is much higher in several instances. I could understand this in the case of materials from the forests, the stone is extra hard and difficult to break, but in the case of quarries the cost should be much lower. I have not received the necessary notice of motion from your clerk, neither have I my estimate before you. I have to report that my estimate of road work for 1922, from 1st April, 1922, to 31st March, 1923, is as follows:—Main roads, £1,650; district roads, £1,215. The amount however to be levied off your district will be reduced by £223, as a result of the incidence of charge of the main road scheme. Your obedient servant, R. P. Cronin, County Surveyor. My roads estimate, £1,650, off £224—£1,426; 3s. 6d. to £ or 2s. 3d. per perch; district roads estimate, £1,215; 2s. 11 1/2 to the £ or 1s. 10d. per perch. Mr. Dunne asked was there any machinery working on the roads. The County Surveyor said no, as owing to the condition of the roads and until a settlement was made, the machinery being heavy, could not be worked on them. The machinery at present was at Ceweasle, and the roads about the C were worse than the main road from this to Limerick. He expected very soon to have the machine at work. The main roads in the district were not very bad. The Chairman asked the County Surveyor how was it that so little money was spent on the roads, that the best stone breaks were in the district, and were making complaints over the matter. The stone here is so hard that they are unable to break more than one yard, and are blamed for not doing more than is reasonable. The County Surveyor said he noted, as he has done lately, for economy sake, The stone-breakers were paid by the day. It was a matter for the District Council to determine. A yard of stones in Glin district was equal to three or even four yards in the limestone country, the stone here being much harder and slower to break.

Fortunately, the weather has been very favourable, and the actual repair work necessary, and your district did not suffer as much as others in the matter of preparation of materials, as practically all the work is done by hand in the Glin rural district. With reference to the preparation of materials, I should like to point out that although the most satisfactory road maintenance in your district is the lowest of any in the western district, the cost of quarrying and breaking stones is much higher in several instances. I could understand this in the case of materials from the forests, the stone is extra hard and difficult to break, but in the case of quarries the cost should be much lower. I have not received the necessary notice of motion from your clerk, neither have I my estimate before you. I have to report that my estimate of road work for 1922, from 1st April, 1922, to 31st March, 1923, is as follows:—Main roads, £1,650; district roads, £1,215. The amount however to be levied off your district will be reduced by £223, as a result of the incidence of charge of the main road scheme. Your obedient servant, R. P. Cronin, County Surveyor. My roads estimate, £1,650, off £224—£1,426; 3s. 6d. to £ or 2s. 3d. per perch; district roads estimate, £1,215; 2s. 11 1/2 to the £ or 1s. 10d. per perch. Mr. Dunne asked was there any machinery working on the roads. The County Surveyor said no, as owing to the condition of the roads and until a settlement was made, the machinery being heavy, could not be worked on them. The machinery at present was at Ceweasle, and the roads about the C were worse than the main road from this to Limerick. He expected very soon to have the machine at work. The main roads in the district were not very bad. The Chairman asked the County Surveyor how was it that so little money was spent on the roads, that the best stone breaks were in the district, and were making complaints over the matter. The stone here is so hard that they are unable to break more than one yard, and are blamed for not doing more than is reasonable. The County Surveyor said he noted, as he has done lately, for economy sake, The stone-breakers were paid by the day. It was a matter for the District Council to determine. A yard of stones in Glin district was equal to three or even four yards in the limestone country, the stone here being much harder and slower to break.

County Surveyor's Report.

At the meeting of the Glin District Council, Mr. J. Cronin, presiding, the Clerk read the County Surveyor's report, which was as follows:—"County Surveyor's Report. 82 O'Connell-street, Limerick. Gentlemen—It is hardly necessary for me to state that work in connection with the maintenance of roads has been rendered very difficult during the past six months. PROFIT THIS YEAR. There's a reason why people prefer to buy BUNNELL'S KING WIGAN and our BEST ORREL 4 FOOT. It's because it's ALL coal—no dirt or slate. You can order it feeling confident that you will get the best for your money.

Limerick Steamship Co. LIMITED. GREAT COAL DEPOT, Dock Road, Limerick. Telegrams: "Steamship." Telephone: 19.

Stages will be similar in respect of character, but different in respect of difficulty. 1. Candidates will be furnished with printed material, and will be required to draw up a Prose—i.e., a brief and clear statement in the form of a narrative. 2. The object of the Prose is to convey to the reader, in narrative form, the circumstances and events to which the subject matter relates in such a manner as to put him readily in possession of the essential facts, while confining those that are unessential. 3. Clearness of thought, writing, and clearness and consistency of expression, are essential to success. 4. The matter will vary from year to year; it may consist, e.g., of a series of letters, the report of a meeting, a narrative passage, or a description of a scene. The length of the Prose should not exceed 300 words.

COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENCE AND BUSINESS KNOWLEDGE.—Questions may be set on the subject-matter of the Stage II syllabus, but a higher standard of knowledge is expected from Stage III than from Stage II Candidates. The questions asked will cover the following additional matters: 1. The mechanism of general foreign trade, both import and export, in all its aspects; the documents used in this connection; corresponding relations thereto. 2. Methods of securing payments for goods imported or exported; documents used in this connection; a correspondence relating thereto. 3. The general
