

FORDSON

SERVICE TO THE OWNER. "If I buy a tractor what kind of interest will the manufacturer take in the machine after I have parted with the money? We can assure you that the reputation of the Fordson rests very largely on the attention paid to this matter. An abundant supply of standardised spare parts is normally available for the purpose of ensuring expeditious replacement when necessary. These stocks are also standardised. Because FORDSON TRACTOR dealers have realised the importance of quick cheap and reliable "service" they are ready to send anywhere within the sphere of their operations, mechanics in response to an urgent call. Except in rare cases do you have to send the tractor to the repair man. The repair man COME TO YOU.

FORDSON TRACTOR delivered to purchase 22 horse power, 3 speed and reverse, Weight 23 cwt., Length 6 ft., Width 4 ft. 6 in. Height 4 ft. 4 in. Price at Works, Cork, £205. Extra for pulley attachment £10 10s. 0d. Road bands for wheels £6 0s. 0d.

SOLE AGENTS, LIMERICK AND KERRY.

Limerick Motor Works, Ltd. TELEPHONE—182 TELEGRAMS "MOTORS"

THOMAS MURPHY PAINTING CONTRACTOR.

House Painting, Graining, Paper Hanging, &c. ORDERS QUICKLY AND SATISFACTORILY EXECUTED. ESTIMATES ON APPLICATION PERSONAL SUPERVISION

7 CONVENT STREET, LIMERICK.

(OPPOSITE CASTLE BARRACKS)

CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN.

On Thursday the Most Rev. Edward J. Byrne, Catholic Archbishop of Dublin, took canonical possession of his See.

The economy took place at the Pro-Cathedral, Marlborough street, the majority of the members of the Dublin Corporation were present at the ceremony, at the close of which addresses were presented at Clonifish C. H. by the Most Rev. from the clergy of the Diocese and the City Council.

Archbishop Byrne, in the course of his reply, having first spoken in Irish, said that to one like himself, born and educated in the city, who spent the greater part of his life within its boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city. Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

Like St. Paul, he gloried in being a citizen of so mean a city. (Applause.) Referring to the housing conditions in the city, he said it was within his boundaries, it could not but be a source of immense gratification to receive an address from the Municipal Council of his native city.

LIMERICK EPIDEMIC.

Schools to Re-open Next Wednesday.

The outbreak of diphtheria in Limerick is happily abating, only one case from the city having come into hospital since Sunday last. In view of the improvement, the Board of Health, Dr. McGrath, Superintendent Medical Officer of Health, has, with the concurrence of the Public Health Committee, given permission for one school to re-open on Wednesday next. The schools have been given permission to re-open on Wednesday next.

The following report was read from Dr. McGrath at the meeting of the Public Health Committee last night, Alderman J. Casey presiding:—

18 The Crescent, Limerick, 26th October, 1921.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.—There were in hospital today 45 cases of scarlatina, 30 of which were diphtheria, and 11 of which were diphtheria, making a total of 76.

Within the past week there have been only 2 cases of scarlatina and 7 cases of diphtheria admitted to hospital. The number of diphtheria cases in the city is now 14, and in view of the fact that a distinct improvement has taken place, I am of opinion that the epidemic has practically run its course. Under the circumstances, I believe it would be safe to permit some relaxation of the restrictions relating to schools, &c. There ought not to be any danger in allowing one house a night in each district for a week, and if the epidemic has been permanently arrested.

No children under 14 years must be permitted to attend, and cinemas should be thoroughly disinfected daily. My reason for suggesting only one house a night is that the epidemic in this way would avoid the danger of a visited and possibly infected atmosphere.

Great vigilance is still necessary on the part of parents and school teachers, and householders generally. But if things continue as they are, I depend on the promptitude with which a doctor is called in when any sign of illness is apparent.

One person brought to the hospital during the week suffering from diphtheria, had been ill for six days before he was sent for, and as a result that the case ended fatally, as a cure under such conditions was an utter impossibility.

I would recommend that the liberal use of disinfectants be continued, that there should be a thorough inspection of tubs, and that white washing especially in the case of tenements and houses in the congested areas should be carried out on an extensive scale.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

It is most important matter just at present in connection with the epidemic, is the necessity for boiling the milk used for drinking purposes. It is held by the best authorities that heavy rains after a long drought produce conditions favourable to the outbreak of typhoid fever.

BETTING BY CHEQUE.

The House of Lords Decision.

It is impossible (says the "London Evening Standard") to estimate the amount of money collected by the decision of the Law Lords in regard to betting by cheque, but it is known that the immediate total involved is some hundreds of thousands, and may reach millions in the near future. The decision of the Law Lords, which individual bookmakers is one of £18,000, while there are many running into four figures. The average net weekly payment by cheque in connection with starting point business is estimated at £200,000 from the beginning of the year to the 1st of January. This is in addition to credit bets on the course, said to amount to a weekly average of £160,000, though for such weeks as Monday or Ascot anything up to £500,000 is mentioned.

This is the view of Mr. W. J. Randall, secretary to the Turf Guardian Society, who reviewed in striking fashion, in an interview with the "Evening Standard," the decision of the Law Lords on the decision that money paid by cheque in respect of betting transactions is legally recoverable by the loser.

The Turf Guardian Society, whose membership includes the great majority of the responsible commission agents in London and throughout the country, has called a meeting for Monday to consider the setting up of a practicable scheme of protection in the interest of all straightforward bettors and backers.

"There are dozens of suggestions," said Mr. Randall, "and all of these have to receive very careful consideration. The probability is that there will be an entirely different system of settlement. You may take it as certain that a remedy will be found."

The "Express" understands that following the decision of the House of Lords in the betting by cheque case, a new company for the purpose of operating Pari-Mutuel on a large scale is to be floated immediately. The capital is to be one million pounds, and a number of prominent financiers were canvassed yesterday with a view to underwriting it.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

Lord Birkenhead had called attention to the inconvenience which was likely to arise from the judgment under which the loser of a betting transaction can recover the amount he has lost if payment has been made by cheque, and that Lord Birkenhead observed in reply that he could not see that any useful purpose would be gained by perpetuating the present system. He suggested that the noble lord should test the feeling of Parliament on the matter by introducing a bill.

Lord Chancellors Hint. In the House of Lords on Thursday, the Lord Chancellor (Lord Birkenhead) made an important pronouncement in regard to the recent decision as to betting by cheque.

BISHOP OF CORK AND IRELAND'S FUTURE.

"Our Hope Lies in Unity."

Position of Southern Unionists.

At the annual Synod of the Diocese of Cork, Cloyne, and Ross, in Cork yesterday, the Bishop, Right Rev. Dr. Dowling, in the course of his address, referred to the Irish situation at some length. His Lordship said—For our country, especially for our own diocese, the year has been one full of fearful happenings and tragic events, and yet we are not without hope that the brighter days are just around the corner. Our Church and our country, he referred to the tragic circumstances surrounding the death of Major O'Connor, of Douglas, and Mr. Thomas Brindle, of Dussart, and said that they must express their abhorrence of crimes such as these. I have spoken, his Lordship went on to say, of two members of this Synod. Other Churchmen, too, of this diocese have suffered violent deaths. He recalled the lowest depth of all was reached in the murder of Miss Lindsay, of Coochford. That crime well-nigh drove us to despair. I am sure, on behalf of the Synod, I may offer to all those who in this diocese have suffered and undergone bitter bereavement our deepest sympathy and most profound condolences. Others, too, have suffered, only somewhat less severely. Their homes have been burned; they have been driven from their homes, and their country and their Church are the poorer for their loss. And yet, in the presence of all this trouble and loss, what is our duty? I think it is this: We must hope on; we must refuse to be chilled into inactivity and despair. It is for me to believe that politics are the chief cause of our distress. We thankfully recognise that throughout our diocese as most Churches and Roman Catholics have sided by side on terms of friendship and goodwill. As we look out into the future we have grounds for hope. We are few in this country, but we are of the few that are needed. We have never desired a change of religion. But if change must come, then whatever be the form of Government established in the future, and under which we must live, we believe, without any dissent or pride, that the contribution we can bring will be necessary if our country is to reach its highest level. In the past we have been a source of pride to our country, and we will have our views respected and our rights fairly