Another Statement by Mr De Valera.

Yesterday's "Irish Bulletin" announced that the following statement had been made by Mr De Valera: "I have been asked whether the honour of Ireland is not involved in the ratification of the agreement arrived at. The honour of Ireland is not involved. The plenipotentiaries were sent on their distinct understanding that any agreement they made was subject to ratification by the Government and by the country, and could be rejected by the Dail if it did not commend itself to the country."

ULSTER'S POSITION.

Statement by Sir James Craig. Sir James Craig, yesterday, in the Northern House of Commons, described the Ulster position as affected by the Irish Peace Treaty.

Parliament and the Treaty.

The following official communication has been issued: "The King, as already announced, will open Parliament at 12 o'clock on Wednesday."

Archbishop of Dublin

And Irish Free State. If the new Irish Government is to succeed, they must have the support of a united people, said Most Rev. Dr. Gregg, Archbishop of Dublin, in a sermon at Bagginistown on Sunday.

Rev Dr Osborne.

"I never had any fear of suffering injustice at the hands of my fellow-countrymen," declared Dr Osborne in the Abbey Church, Dublin, in the presence of the pleasure of giving service to the new order, and of even greater pleasure at the prospect of Irish unity.

References in Limerick Churches.

Addressing the congregation at the eight and twelve o'clock Masses in St Michael's Parochial Church Sunday, Rev Fr Deane, A.M., alluded to the Anglo-Irish Peace Treaty, the acceptance of which he strongly favoured.

Cardinal Logue and Peace.

"I hope the Peace Treaty will go through, and I cannot understand how it could be otherwise, if any leaders should have taken the stand against it they appear to have done."

Unionist Anti-Partition League.

The Unionist Anti-Partition League yesterday urged all Unionists to join with their fellow-countrymen in working for the nation's welfare.

DR COHALAN HOPES FOR RATIFICATION OF TREATY.

Speaking at High Mass in Cork Cathedral on Sunday, the Bishop, Most Rev Dr Cohalan, said that he was going to arrange for a solemn Peace celebration, owing to the present division of the country, being of the opinion that there is an agreement which would be desired for the moment.
