Munchin's New Church

Fand, for the erection of St Manchin's w Church, we are glad to see, is making tisfactory progress. This is but as it should for the need for such a structure has been gent not only for years but for generations. The building now being replaced was a decus syssors, and was not only unsultable d unworthy as a Temple of the Lord, but se anything but ereditable to the disesse of

No one can say-not even the bitterest als or opponent of charch building—that the ared edifice under construction is not neces ry, and the appeal for funds for its erection. erefore, deserves not only a generous but a de response.

aiready the subscriptions received amount to retty substantial total, but a great deal has to be done in the matter of pollocting and profibing before anything like the fall sum uired is reached.

buring the month of April subscriptions alling over £700 were handed in. This was idedly oradiaable, and it is so be hoped tribusions will consinue to come in at the se rate, at the least, until the full sum casary to complete the work is subscribed. Very Rev Canon O'Driscoll, speaking as eting of the Building Committee on Friday said they needed $15,000 and there to splets the shell of the church. This shows necessity for many farther generous reases to the appeal for tunds.

THURLES YOUTHS

CHARGED AT LIMERICK COURTMARTIAL

A Field General Courtmartial, at the New Barracks, Limerick, yesterday, resumed the hearing of the adjourned case in which four young men from Thurles were charged with illegally assembling for drilling and other purposes as Longhnacellen on Sunday, February

The socused are William M'Certhy, John Turner, Thomas Tobio and Richard M Carthy. Mr R J Kinshan, B L (instructed by Mr J H Moran, solioitor, Limerick, and Mr Francis O'Connor, so.icitor, Thurles), appeared to defond the three first-named, and the fourth was not legally represented.

A further police witness was examined as to the openirence and be described the rooms of the alleged drilling, a considerable time being occupied as to the exact positions occupied by the accused at the time of the incident; the locally was described as in the environs of Thurles in fields between Pike stress and Quarry street. Richard M'Cariby now made a statement to the theet that he and Tobin lodged together, and they went for a walk inducing William M Carthy to go with them ; they were orcasing the fields from one road to snother when the police, whom they did not hear calling on them so "halt," fired, and he was wounded twice. ·Mr Kinaban pointed out that his offents and the other accused were quite legitimately in the fields on the date of the courrence and the police evidence went to show that they were never in the field in which the slieged drilling described in the earlier stages of the evidence wer stated to have taken place. It was ountemany for people on their Sanday walks to cross from one road to another so as to avoid a detour and although there was no right of way there wer a certain amount of usor of this field in effecting the crossing from one road to another. They had absolutely nothing to do with and the shop and succeeded in making their | snything of an illegal shoracter and he asked for sheir acquitial. The result will be prometented

TWO YEARS

RELIGIOUS WORK

By a Limerick Franciscan

A very valuable religious work, a bistory of the Huly Name, has recently come from the gifted pen of Rev Father Francis Donnelly, O F M, now ministering in Limerick, whither he was transferred come weaks one from Cork. The bookiet consists of only 44 pages, but within that brief compass is compressed an amount of golden thought and stimulating information that make the publiention really wonderful value for the modest price of 1/- charged for The work is excellently written and the matter on its pages is as instructive and loopining as the style in which it is presented is clear, pleasing and direct. The booklet gives the origin of the Devotion to the Holy Name and gives in addition a large amount of very valuable information on various other religious matters and phases, toughing insidentally on such subjects as intemperance, evil liserature, immodest fashions and the dangers of immoral pistures and theatres. Of particular interest just now is that portion of it showing what a wonderfully powerful weapon devotion to the Holy Name can be made "In our fight for the freedom of our nountry." The Holy Name, says Father Francis, in an introductory word to the reader. "has wrought such wonders before, as in the case of St John Capistran, OFM, over the Turks, and of St Joan of Are over the English. If we tall to gain similar results, let us put it down to the proper cause-want of Faith, and not so the want of power of that All Powerful Rame of Jesus." The subject of this necessarily brief notice or review, we ropeat, is a strikingly valuable publication, which should find its way inso the bookshelves of every Outholic home, for no one can read is without feeling the spiritual sense quickened and enlightened to a high degree. We may add that copies can be had at Kivleban's, O'Connell street, Limerick, at Is sach.

There were prosent also-Rev C Halmin, C.C : Bey James Moloney, CO; Messrs J Kannedy, James A Doyle, solicitor ; Thos Meany, M O'Loughlin, J. and the Hon Sec. J Hickey. The minuses of the pravious meeting having been read and signed. The Chairman said he wished to express his thanks to all who had contributed to the Building Fand. Daring the month of April, subscriptions amounting to over £700 had been handed in Many more had been promised. and will come in time Whilst some large subscriptions had been handed in from the perishioners, the greater number of the subscriptions came from the city outside the parish. I hope I may ff-r your special shanks, the Chairman said, to those entelds the parish who have subsoribed, many of them very generously, said he also wished to call special attention to she subscriptions of the working people of Thomondgate. In spite of much unemployment, he want on, we received during the month an average sum of £19 3s per week from the working people of the parish. The sale of cards of "bricks and slaves" was also the means of increasing our fand notably; and our thanks are due to the teachers and to the shildren of the several schools who worked so hard to dispose of the bricks and slates. I have also, he said, to express my shanks to she workmen connected with the church, who are giving 6d in the £ of their wages weekly to the benefit of the church, and to the working people at Mesers Cleave's factories who have also promised and have started a weekly contribution. Finally, said the Chairman, I wish to thank Mrs Doyle, Ardbrae, and the Misses Dundon, Limerick Union for organising moss successin entertainments on our behalf. The Chairman finally expressed the hope that all citizens would belp in every way possible to increase the ipsome of the committee. We need, he said, £15,000 and more to complete the shell of the church. After all, the whole city has an Interest in the church, which is being built in bonour of shelr pairon, and which will be an ornament where an ornament is needed greatly. This shurch will also remove one of the greatest eyesores that a religious person could notice in the city of Limerick. No one can say, as all events, that the new church of St Munchin was not a necessity. The next meeting of the committee will be held at one o'clock on the 15th inst.

Grave Allegations of Preference

The Irish Cattle Trade Association passed resolution calling attention to the preferential treatment of American cattle at Birkenhead. It was pointed out that Irish cattle traders supnorted. Birkenhead lairage for the pass 8 or 9 years, and if this preferential areatment consinued Irish traders would consider their attianda towards that port.

Mr O'Callaghan said American cattle work altowed to land at Glasgow, while Irish pattle were excluded.

Mr T Fitzgerald, Waterford, wrote that while the whole frontage of the Birkenbead lairage, which adjoined the dead meat market, and which was the best place for celling catele had been elisted to Ame forms, Irish cause were being put in a remote pate of the lairage. Mr M J Nagle, who presided, said is was slearly a case of no Irish need apply.

A protest was also made against the new Order of the Ministry of Agriculture rigatring a 14 days' detention of Irish atore casses after landing in England. Mr Lucy steled very few Irish cartle would be sens to England while these restrictions continued.

Plotholders Interesting to

ho!dera' Council, Mr Murphy said it was high time that the plotholders decided on some action which would ensure the retention of their plots, not only for the soming year, but for all time. Whether they would go forward as corporators, trades unionists, or members of a friendly ociety, would be for themselves to decide. They should not wait until October. "Do it now," should be their motto. If they did not thry might be landless men next year.

The Price of Butter

In a lester in Monday's Dublin " Evening Telegraph," Mr D Hegarty, Scoretary of the Irth Dairy (Producers and Shippers) Association, asys :- A paragraph in your news columns of to-day, with reference to the price of butter is liable to mislead the public and to make still more difficult the position of the Irish buster producer, already disastrous. I refer to your etasement that "the top quotaslone for the very best butter (In the Cork market) was 148s per cwt," or approximately Is 3d per lb. Now the prices reported for "fresh" butter in the Cork market as quoted daily in your market columns apply only to farmers' lumps-that is. the raw material from which "factory butter is made. The price is, therefore, a manufacturar s price for raw material, and not the price of the fluished article. It has no relation to the price of choicest creamery butter. which, as given in your market report of yesterday, is approximately correct-namely, 180s to | Mrs. Enright, Davis-street. 190s per owt. CHURCK BEHAVIOUR

Attitude at the Altar

Persons whilst in the church should as mud as possible avoid soughing, spitting and a manner of noise. They should be remarkable clean in their draw and person, and avoid the slighest appearance of indiscretion. The should look only at the alter and recollect the It is to God and not to man they appear then While they appear in a respectful posture, the should avoid all improper gestures. All whi can read should use their prayer books unless when meditation is preferable. Catholics should take oure never to turn their backs to the alm when the Biessed Sacrament is exposed, be kneel in a respectful posture.
