Giants of Many Lands

Few are the countries which cannot produce tall men, says Mr. H. T. Martyn in the current "Champion." Lewis Wilkins, of British descent, who was born in St. Paul, Minnesota, in 1874, was 5' 11" in height, and measured 66 1/2 round the waist. He weighed 26 stones, and the interior circumference of his hat was 27 inches. Forador Maschnow, who appeared at the London Hippodrome in February, 1905, as Russia's giant and as the biggest man alive, stood 7' 3" in his socks and weighed 23 stones. His bill of fare for one of his days in London was as follows: Breakfast—Two quarts of milk, twelve eggs, and two large loaves. Lunch—Two or three pounds of potatoes and a quart of beer. Dinner—Three to five pounds of meat, with vegetables, three pounds of bread, and two quarts of beer. Supper—Ten to fifteen eggs, bread and butter, and a quart of tea. Maschnow could light his cigarette from a lamp post with ease. Marie Faesmauer, the Tyrolean giantess, when she appeared at the London Hippodrome in March, 1917, was declared to be 5' 11" in height, and to have attained this stature when she was 18 years of age. Mr. Olive Doherty, an Australian farmer of independent means, who was 8' 6" in height, followed her from Vienna to London in a vain endeavour to get an opportunity of proposing to her. Eugenie Arden, who was 6' 11" in height, was married in May, 1918, to a 7' 11" inch man, and was rejected by the American Army as too big. Mr. Lascaille, French master at Harrow in the 'eighties, was 6 feet 10 inches. Percy Chaudler, a Canadian who was killed in the war, when 16 years old was 6 feet 4 inches. Captain Ames, of the 2nd Life Guards, was 6 feet 11" tall.

STRUGGLE FOR GREYHOUNDS

Four men, armed and disguised, arrived in a motor car at the residence of Mr. G. Fitzpatrick, Gashabawn, Co. Kilkenny, on Wednesday night, and represented themselves as I.R.A. agents in search of stolen greyhounds. Mr. Fitzpatrick had two greyhounds pups, aged eight months, by Kilmacnully, which he was rearing for Mr. D. J. Corey. He refused to comply with the requests of the visitors, and should deliver the pups to them, and a struggle ensued, in the course of which Miss Fitzpatrick bore a leg to be broken from one of the men, while her father put up a plucky fight notwithstanding that he was covered with revolvers. The raiders, however, secured the dogs and carried them off in the motor car. The I.R.A. police were notified of the occurrence.

EMPLOYMENT SCHEME

FOR TIPPERARY EX-SERVICE MEN

At Tipperary Urban Council the Town Clerk (Mr. T. Dawson) said he had received the following letter, dated October 12th, from the Ministry of Transport, Dublin, in reference to the long-pondered question of the employment of ex-service men in the neighbourhood of Tipperary. It is directed to inform you that the Ministry of Transport has been advised by the Ministry of Labour that it would be desirable, having regard to the number of ex-service men in the neighbourhood of Tipperary who are at present unemployed, to initiate a special scheme for their employment. The Ministry of Transport therefore, considering the question of making a grant out of a fund which has been specially provided to cover the cost of wages of ex-service men employed through the Labour Exchange of Tipperary, would be glad to know whether the Tipperary Urban Council would be prepared to carry out works of public utility in the urban district subject to the Ministry making a grant of the wages to be paid to the ex-service men obtained through the Labour Exchange mentioned and employed thereon. If the Council are prepared to undertake such work, it shall be obliged if you will be good as to furnish information on the following points:—(1) Nature, extent, and location of works proposed, giving detailed particulars of the nature of work; (2) the prevailing rate of wages corresponding to the different classes of work; (3) the number of ex-service men likely to be employed; and (4) the probable period of employment. It is suggested that an Outline contract consideration to schemes which can be completed by January 1st next, so as to have a good understanding in connection with the above-mentioned proposal that the Urban Council would have to provide and pay for the cost of material, use of plans skilled supervision, of gangers (unless they are ex-service men), haulage, etc. The Ministry will not yet be in a position to say that any grant will be made should the Council agree to proceed on the lines indicated, but in order to avoid delay I am to ask you to advise this office as soon as possible whether the Council would be prepared to accept payment in respect of any such grant, or whether they would prefer that payment should be made to the Town Surveyor, who would account to this Department for the wages paid to the ex-service men.—J. J. Blake (for Assistant Director).

The Town Clerk said he had replied to the letter as follows:—"Sir—In reply to your letter of the 13th inst., I beg to state that the Council is not at all prepared to carry out works of public utility on the lines indicated. In this connection I may be permitted to point out that as far back as June, 1919, proposals were forwarded by my Council to the Local Government Board in connection with the reconstruction grant of £25,000, but without success. The information requested in your letter will be forwarded without delay by the Town Surveyor, Mr. W. J. Heffernan, to whom it is preferred that payment in respect of any grant should be made. So far, this important district has not received one farthing from any of the grants accumulated either by the later Departmental Committee on Reconstruction or the Transport Ministry."

The Town Clerk added that the total approximate cost of a scheme drawn up by the Town Surveyor for the employment of eighty ex-service men on works of public utility for a period of 18 weeks at £3 14s per week and three shillings a day each per week was £2,100.

The proposals were approved.

WHOLESALE PRICES

OF IRISH PRODUCE

The following is the Department's return of the average wholesale prices of agricultural produce of origin in Ireland during the week ended 5th November, 1921, as compared with the previous week. The prices shown are the average wholesale prices paid in the markets mentioned for the particular quality of produce sold there. In some cases the better qualities of produce are purchased by merchants direct from producers without passing through the regular market.

Hen Eggs—The increasing scarcity of supplies at markets accounts for the continued advance in price. The rate in Belfast was 43/6 per doz. (up from 47/11d, and in Londonderry from 35s to 37s 6d). The rate in Dublin was higher at 38s 9d compared with 26s 8d the previous week. The rise in southern markets was not so considerable. In Kilmacsherry prices advanced from 38s 4d to 35s, and the latter figure was also current at Tralee. In Cork the previous week's rate of 35s 10d advanced to 35s 4d.

Duck Eggs—At the three last named markets duck eggs sold on the same level as last week, but were dearer in Belfast, where they advanced in price during the week from 46/8d to 46/2d per 150.

Farmers' Butter—The market for butter remained steady at in or above previous rates. Londonderry was the dearest market at 24/6d per lb. or 1d higher than last week, and Kilmacsherry the cheapest at the previous week's rate of 1s 10d per lb. Belfast's price was unchanged at 1s 10d per lb., but the rate in Dublin was 1s 2d, to which latter rate prices at Cork advanced from 1s 0d per lb.

Poultry—There was little change in the price of chickens. Belfast and Dublin repeated 11s and 11s 6d per pair, respectively, and Kilmacsherry was 10s 6d per pair. In Londonderry and Tralee the rate was 10s 6d per pair, but the rate in Dublin was 10s 6d per pair. The price of 5s per pair was paid at Tralee. Hens repeated 9s per pair in Dublin, rose in price in Belfast from 7s 6d to 8s 4d, and gave way in Londonderry from 8s 4d to 8s. At Kilmacsherry prices improved from 7s 6d to 7s 7d per pair, while Cork prices were at the same level of 5s 6d. In Londonderry, but advanced by 1s per pair in Belfast and Dublin to 9s and 8s 6d, respectively. In Cork the previous week's price of 3s 10d per pair dropped to 3s 10d.

Pork—Pork was the cheapest market, and was steady at last week's rates. At the one-penny market, Londonderry, there was a slight fall from 10s 10d to 9s 6d per cwt, but there was a huddling tendency in Belfast from 4s 3d to 4s 7d. Dublin and Kilmacsherry were unchanged at 5s 3d and 5s 6d per cwt, respectively, and the latter rate prices sank 3s per cwt in Cork during the week. Tralee at 6s per cwt was the dearest market. The average price per cwt for up-to-date varieties was:—Belfast 4s 11d (3s 11d the week previous), Ballymore 4s 11d (3s 11d the week previous), Cork 4s 9d (3s 11d the week previous), Londonderry 4s 9d (3s 11d the week previous).

Pork—The fluctuation in pork values of late was again exemplified. Belfast prices gave way still further from 110s to 105s per cwt last week. Londonderry prices dropped from 104s to 99s 5d. Dublin was a weaker one, noticeable also in southern markets, as the prices dropped from 91s 6d to 87s 6d and Kilmacsherry prices from 93s to 89s. At Tralee the current price was 90s and Dublin prices improved from 97s 6d to 100s per cwt.

DEATH SENTENCES

Crown Appeals Struck Out

In the Court of Appeal, Dublin, on Friday, before Lord Justice Bowen, Lord Justice O'Connor, and Mr. Justice Wylie, in the case of Egan and Higgins v. Macreary and others, which were listed for hearing on appeal by the Lord Justice Bowen, Lord Justice O'Connor, and Mr. Justice Wylie, the Attorney-General, from an order of the Master of the Rolls, making absolute conditional orders for writs of habeas corpus, addressed to the Solicitors and the authorities of the jails in which Messrs. Egan and Higgins are at present confined, and sentence of death, directing their production.

Sergeants Hanna, Mr. E. S. Murphy, K.C.; Mr. Lippitt, K.C., and Mr. Salusbury (instructed by Mr. Macreary), applied on behalf of the defendants, to have the cases taken out of the list, with liberty to re-apply having regard to the existence of the writs, of which the Court had judicial knowledge, and the condition of affairs at present prevailing.

Mr. F. Lynch, K.C., who, with Mr. Kennedy, K.C., and Mr. O'Connell, B.A., appeared for the accused, said that he had no objection to the application being granted, provided it was without prejudice to his right to submit that no application lay in the case, or to any other rights he might have in respect of the writs.

Lord Justice Bowen—Quite right.

Sergeant Hanna expressed the hope that probably their Lordships would have no objection to the case.

The accused was accordingly struck out of the list generally, with leave to re-apply.

The accused had been with a charge with military courts, Higgins being charged with levying war at Clonmacnoise, Co. Wick, and Egan with the possession of ammunition in Co. Wick.
